George was given employment in the sawmill connected with the Pekin Mills of Waterville, which position he retained for 33 years. He held the office of mayor, member of the Board of Education and, during President Cleveland's administration, was selected postmaster of Waterville on October 2, 1893. At one time he held the position of township clerk and at another that of township treasurer and for 16 years was justice of the peace. They were the parents of three daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Utz were charter members of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church. The church's first Sunday School was held under his supervision at their home. George died in 1908 and Rosine died on January 23, 1920. They are both buried in Wakeman Cemetery.

The 1870 U. S. Census shows three children: Julia A. age 13; Caroline age 11; Emily age 6; Is this Emily, Margaret Amelia who married John Rupp? No other children listed on this report.
