Copyright Information:
The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of the specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

INTRODUCTION

In 1853, the Commonwealth of Virginia began an annual registration of births and deaths. The Birth Index of Slaves, 1853-1865 was later transcribed by the Works Project Administration (WPA) and recorded on microfilm. While the information – name of slave owner, infant's name, mother's name, birth date, place of birth – is of immense value to genealogists, working with the microfilm can be problematic. Hence, the creation of this multi-volume reference work, Virginia Slave Births Index, 1853-1865.

(The microfilm is available at Local History/Special Collections, Alexandria Library, Alexandria Virginia, "Birth Index of Slaves, 1853-1865 (VA)" #00079 and at the Library of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia, "1A Birth Index: 1853-1866.")

Any database is only as good as the data entry. While we have made every effort to be accurate, mistakes are unavoidable. We encourage researchers to personally review the microfilm or request a printed copy of the names of interest once they have examined this work.

The guiding principle for data entry was WYSIWYG i.e. "what you see is what you get." There are a few exceptions. When "Alexander Co" appeared on the microfilm, it was correctly entered into these volumes as "Alexandria Co." Variant names were not standardized e.g. Georgeanna, George Anna, Georganna. When a line on the microfilm was crossed out, the information was entered into this index.

Database Organization

The slave owner surname (or corporate owner) is the first item in each line. An individual slave owner's given name is the second item. When the name is not reported, the researcher will find a series of four hyphens ("----"); when
